

Use these templates to mark the contributions of your relatives during the second world war.

Choose between a blank template to colour in yourself, or a blue and red template.

Print as many as you need for the number of people you want to celebrate.

Using the first two pages as a guide, write the name of a relative on the template, along with their contribution to the second world war and the age they were on VE Day in 1945.

We want to see the people of Dacorum celebrating all the ways local people supported victory in Europe including soldiers serving in the armed forces and the men and women contributing to the war effort on the Home Front—the mother, farmers, munitions workers, teachers, doctors, children etc.

Display the names of your relatives in your window so everyone can celebrate their contribution to the second world war. If you want to include a photo of your relative in your window display.

Take a photo of your window display and send it to us at

info@dacorumheritage.org.uk so we can share it on our website or via social media or post a photo of your display on facebook, instagram or twitter using the hashtag #DacorumVEDay2020

Why not add some bunting to your display using our bunting templates.
